Your key to top-of-the-range tourism,
in an exceptional location

P R E S T I G E

"We travel for years without much idea of what we are seeking. We wander in the tumult, entangled in desires and regrets. Then suddenly we arrive at one of those two or three places which are waiting for each of us patiently in this world. We arrive there and the heart is at peace - we discover that we have arrived."

Background

The Var Prestige Club concept first emerged in Spring 2002 during talks between professionals from the tourist industry and local institutions organized by the Var Tourist Board in the framework of its 2003 Action Plan.

Further to this meeting, a number of establishments associated with luxury tourism expressed the desire to federate their expertise in the aim of promoting the Var region as a top-grade destination, and harnessing a clientele with high spending power.

The pertinence of this project, coupled with the goodwill of the club founders and their desire to promote the Var as an exceptional holiday destination, convinced the Var Tourist Board to become a partner to this novel initiative.

An Original Concept

The Var Prestige Club comprises 27 establishments from 4 complementary market sectors, all associated with top-of-the-range tourism:

- wine cellars and vineyards,
- golf courses,
- luxury hotels,
- exceptional leisure activities (Formula 1 driving school, polo, helicopter piloting, etc.)

The Club's partners all provide services with high added value and are located in the seductive Var region, internationally renowned for its incomparable landscapes, traditional Provençal quality of life and rich cultural heritage.

Each Club member is committed to a basic but stringent quality charter relating to aspects such as infrastructures, services, environment, etc.

This federative charter guarantees similar top-grade services are offered by all Club members.

It is designed to foster the Club's key objective: to promote the Var region as an exceptional destination.

The Var Prestige Club aims to assert its originality and enhance regional focus by offering a rigorous and extensive choice of luxury hotels and internationally-acclaimed golf courses, coupled with a reputed terroir and exciting recreational possibilities such as Formula 1 racing, catamaran sailing and polo.

Despite its relatively small size (the Var region extends just 120 km from East to West), few locations can boast such a fabulous natural heritage, faultless infrastructures and exhaustive choice of leisure activities – topped with a relaxed and refined quality of life!

Guests' choice will not therefore be guided by the proximity of leisure facilities to their place of stay, but by the guaranteed and systematic high quality offered by "Var Prestige", whatever their chosen activity.

Var Prestige... In Provence Your Passport to an Exceptional Destination!

Boasting 300 days of sunshine per year, over 400 kilometres of coast scattered with reputed resorts and the second largest area of forests in France, the Var region is a little corner of paradise in the South of France.

From the town of Saint-Cyr in the West to Saint-Raphaël in the East, the region offers a succession of gorgeous fjords, beaches and harbours. A whirl of colour and heady scents, where azure-blue Mediterranean waters mix with striking yellow Provençal fabrics, tender green olives and fragrant purple lavender.

Although the coast obviously attracts large numbers of visitors, our strikingly contrasted inland country abounds with such breathtaking sights as the Verdon Grand Canyon, olive groves, vineyards, hilltop villages, Romanesque churches, fortified villages and archaeological sites, set against a backdrop of umbrella pines, cork oaks and cypresses.

This beautifully preserved region, combining all the charms of Provence and the French Riviera, is a treasure trove for sea and sun lovers, culture and heritage fans, arts & crafts collectors and sports enthusiasts.

Var Prestige... In Provence A French Premier!

The Var Prestige Club is a forerunner, born out of patient observations, exchanges and deliberations. Its members are motivated, organized, determined, independent and reactive.

To create the Club name, we decided to select the Var as the destination's signature, Prestige to consolidate our market position and In Provence to ensure international reach, evoke our authentic quality of life, extensive touristic assets and facilitate immediate geographical identification.

The Club targets a clientele (individuals or groups) with high spending power and uses a networking principle. Although certain commercial ties already existed between sectors such as accommodation and golfing, our global supply was not clearly defined and demand emanated sporadically from customers.

The dynamics of Var Prestige revolve around the accommodation sector (four-star and four-star luxury only), which acts as a driving force for the club's other partners.

After lengthy discussions, the club's associated market sectors were chosen for their specific character. That is why transport (aircraft, taxi-limousine, helicopter, etc.) and catering (gourmet) are not included as members, but may be affiliated as privileged partners.

Although the Club is not a central booking office, clients calling on its members benefit from an exceptional choice of high-grade service proposals, a privileged welcome and equivalent service quality, whatever the chosen establishment.

This policy is designed to enhance the image of the Var as an authentic and preserved location with exceptionally rich assets, offering little-known or rare services with high added value.

To achieve their goal, all Club members are committed to winning customer satisfaction, anticipating demand, getting to know their clientele and treating every situation with a smile.

How the Club Works

Similarly to the "Maison de la France" clubs, the Var Prestige Club is incorporated in the Var Tourist Board (CDT).

The Club encompasses four market sectors (accommodation, golfing, wine cellars & vineyards and exceptional leisure activities). It is steered by elected Board members (one per sector), in conjunction with the Var Tourist Board. The Board meets regularly and as often as necessary. It includes an elected Chairman and Communications Manager (from the Var Tourist Board).

The Club is open to all Var companies associated with tourism. Membership is requested on a voluntary basis and granted subject to satisfaction of all membership criteria.

The Club does not possess a hierarchy and each member has one vote. The position, tasks and objectives of each member and each elected Board member are clearly defined and agreed by all. However, only the Board is authorized to speak on behalf of the Club.

The founding members of Var Prestige adhere fully to the membership criteria, drawn up in compliance with Club ethics. They are also fully independent and in charge of their own commercial strategy.

Club Partners

The Var Prestige Club introduced a partner network in 2005 as a complement to the services offered by Club members.

Our partners have signed a formal commitment to offer clients an irreproachable welcome and quality of service, and take an active part in the realisation of their projects.

2. CHATEAU DE PIBARNON

The Elixir of Kings

Formerly the reserve of kings, these magnificent wines are internationally acclaimed for their power, nobility and sensuality.

Purple velvet, flavescent satin and tea rose silk - patiently aged in the casks of the magnificent Château de Pibarnon, these Red, White and Rosé wines form the triumvirate of the legendary Bandol appellation.

Overflowing with black fruit, spices, truffle and liquorice, they enchant the discerning palate and offer the humblest wine lover a taste of heaven.

Discovering Pibarnon also takes you on a genuine adventure up a tiny, winding road overlooking "Bec de l'Aigle" rock and Embiez island. There, 300 metres up amid scorched hillsides, vineyards and mulberry trees, lies the residence of the Count and Countess of Saint-Victor.

3. CHATEAU DE SAINT-MARTIN – Cru Classé

Noblesse Oblige ...

Vines were cultivated on this magical site by the Romans in the 2nd century, well before the aristocratic French descendants of today's owner! A variety of wine growers and ascetics followed on from the Romans, including the monks of Lérins who took over the property between the 10th and 18th centuries. Many traces of this uncommon heritage still remain visible.

Today, Adeline de Barry is master of her domain. A woman of character, she is the holder of a family tradition dating back eighteen generations - the Château has been handed down from mother to daughter since 1740, as witnessed by the gallery of portraits featured on the "Vieilles Vignes" vintage. An extraordinary family tree, which lends the wines of Saint-Martin their particularly rich and flavourful character.

Between masked balls, treasure hunts and princely marriages, the young Countess continues to pass on her love of her terroir, paint passionate portraits of her epic family, and swathe her home with her typically feminine grace!

4. CHATEAU SAINTE-ROSELINE – Cru Classé

Sensual Pleasures

At the stunning Château Sainte-Roseline, art and wine-appreciation go hand in hand. Stroked by tender vines, the Château walls are guarded by extraordinary sculptures dotted around the grounds. Sainte-Roseline lies here in peace in her crystal shrine inside the 12th-century chapel, seemingly watching over the canvasses by Chagall and Giacometti and stained-glass windows by Bazaine adorning the stone walls of her resting place. For the Château Sainte-Roseline is also a temple of modern art. The owner, a keen art lover, resides in the ancient abbey remodelled by talented architect Jean-Michel Wilmotte.

And the wines produced at the vineyard – first founded by Pope Jean XXII in the 14th century - are just as majestic as the site itself. Seven centuries of wine-growing history have gone to elaborate these marvellous AOC wines, raised in barrels, casks or vats. A toast please!

Reception / Seminar areas:

5. CHATEAU RASQUE

For the Love of Wine

The Provençal countryside harbours certain sites of a rare beauty, situated far from the pollution, hustle and bustle of city life. Inhabited for 6000 years, Château Rasque is one of these magical places.

The history of Rasque is virtually as old as time itself. Here, Neolithic men carved their stone tools, Ligurians built the Castelar oppidum to defend their crops in 400 BC, Greeks and Romans planted the first Rasque vines, and medieval peasants built their existence around the wheat, olives and wines born of this generous and fertile soil. The hills, fields and forests of Rasque form a deliciously harmonious ensemble, scattered with tiny wild flowers in spring and autumn. The forest paths leading through dense oaks are the same as those strolled by Roman poets thousands of years ago. The Château itself, bordered by an impressive 250- acre estate, implements traditional growing techniques, combining a deep respect for quality and time-old savoir-faire. In the last 20 years, this little jewel has risen to become one of the Var's flagship vineyards... all for the love of wine.

Reception / Seminar areas:

1 Bacchus reception room accommodating 300 guests. Year round exhibitions by the Château's southern artist friends Camille Hilaire, Jean-Claude Novarro, Hélène Oger, Bernard Bezzina, Arman and Laurent-Emmanuel Briffaud.

The 6219-metre layout embraces the site's natural relief, for nature is the architect of this exceptional course; the hand of man has only served to reveal the site's hidden beauty.

12.CHATEAU DE BERNE - AUBERGE

In the Land of the Counts of Provence ...

This sumptuous estate harbours a fabulous history – of the kind that covered the pages of our childhood schoolbooks!

First Greeks then Romans planted and grew vines here. Cistercian monks and the Knights Templar subsequently co-inhabited on the site in the Middle Ages. Confiscated by King Philippe le Bel in 1307, the land was then shared out among nobles. In the 19th century, a former captain of the Imperial army decided to extend the Château and modernize its wine-growing techniques.

The Château still echoes to its tumultuous history, where past and present now go hand in hand. Today's guests can enjoy exceptional wines born out of time-old experience, married with exquisite cuisine. The Château also hosts delightful cookery classes and stages high-quality evening entertainment in the outdoor theatre.

15. CHATEAU DE TAULANE

A Haven of Peace

Set in the Var region's inland country, at the foot of Mont Lachens and just a short hop from the Verdon Canyon, the four-star "Château de Taulane" – now an international benchmark hotel – is also located on the famous Napoleon's Road. Its noble 18th-century stone walls, marked by the passage of time, harbour a modern and voluptuous interior decorated in the colours of Provence. The former stables in the castle grounds have now been converted into a comfortable manor house. This ancient fief still echoes to its emblematic past: the Marquis de Lisle Taulane, a Royal Navy captain made Knight of the Order of Saint-Louis in 1749, erected today's Chateau next to the ruins of a medieval castle.

The main structure was built using wood from the King's naval base, transported from the city of Toulon by convicts. The hotel restaurant, fittingly named the "La Marquise de Lisle", features a luxurious and elegant banquet room, serving the finest cuisine and wines. Guests will also enjoy the delightful covered pool, offering splendid views over the golf course. Simply enchanting!

11. HOTEL DU CASTELLET RESORT* LUXE

The Dolce Vita

This magnificent property exhales a wonderful Tuscan atmosphere. In the distance, the splendid bay of Bandol offers onlookers a hypnotizing procession of silver waves. The interior is simply lavish, with irresistibly cosy rooms on the themes of lavender, honey and grape. Not a single corner is left out of the ultra-refined decor – just take a look at the three little stoneware Provençal girls dancing on their shelf, or the casual pile of old leather-bound books. A cordon-bleu restaurant crowns this little corner of paradise.

20. LE BEAUVALLON

Luxury and Sensuality...

Set overlooking the Mediterranean, this prestigious Belle Époque-style establishment appears to defy the unshakeable calm of the waters below. The interior offers all the quiet elegance of a typical English club, scented with leather and precious woods. Sensual Oriental silks, crystal chandeliers and printed fabric screens go to complete the ambience.

In days gone by, Lady Churchill, the Kennedy family and Michèle Morgan all elected the Beauvallon as their summer residence for its comfort and tranquillity. For here, just a step away from the hustle and bustle of Saint-Tropez, only the sound of footsteps crunching on the sand goes to disturb the peace...

At the end of a long ribbon of lawn, the Beach Club waterside restaurant gazes over the azure-blue Med, rivalled by the translucent waters of the palace pool.

21. VILLA MARIE

Precious Moments

Set on the heights of Ramatuelle, Villa Marie offers simply breathtaking views over the Bay of Pampelonne and its beaches of Eden. The gardens exhale heady fragrances, and the infinitely blue Mediterranean skies are perfectly mirrored in the waters below.

Villa Marie is a haven of peace, where time is of little importance. The decor was created by Nature herself: succulent citrus fruits, cacti, herbs and luxuriant palm trees thrive here in the vast grounds sheltering this corner of paradise – a chaotic plant world in striking contrast to the geometric lines of the pool.

Guests at the Villa Marie are pampered. The spa is a little jewel of refinement, using semi-precious stones, essential oils of jasmine, massages under the pine trees, reflex zone massages and face & body treatments to soothe away the stresses and strains of everyday life...

And when the sun finally goes down, the rooms offer up their ochre walls to soak in the warmth of the last rays. Simply delicious!
